

WHAT ARE THE NARRATIVES BEHIND A SPECIFIC LINK ?

📅 22 Oct 2025

It is important to frequently return to the original quotes associated with each factor or link to understand how different stakeholders interpret and talk about key concepts. This can be done in Causal Map by clicking on a link in the interactive map, or by printing out quotes for a particular filter (e.g. just for a single bundle of links) with additional context and metadata.

Cause: Barber Shop

Effect: Social Connection

Um, so, I put the barber shop. Um, it's where I feel most socially connected ...and that's because, I think, the regularity of how often we met up there, there's a kind of community spirit, a lot of people that attend there to get their haircut are from the local area, or barbers are from quite local areas as well and they've been there for so long. So, some of the barbers may have been cutting my hair for when I was like 5 years old. There's a real like, they just know me from childhood to a man, kind of thing. A lot of my peers have had that experience with the barber shop, so, kind of, just, when you go, when we're there, we're just, maybe talking about, it could be football, it could be the news, it could be music, it could be lots of different things, but there's always a shared interest and there's always humour, comedy you know, just jokes, um, because it's so regular and everyone needs a haircut every couple
